

Dahoon Holly

Ilex Cassine

Description: A small tree ideal for a variety of landscape settings. At least two Dahoon Hollies must be planted to ensure production of the brilliant red berries in fall and winter.

Height: Typically 10-30 feet.

Light: Full sun to light shade.

Drought Tolerance: Low to moderate.

Wildlife and Ecology: Provides significant food and cover for wildlife. The berries serve as an excellent food source for small mammals and birds.
